

Five Perish In Blazing Wreckage Of Erie Cars

East Bound Express On Erie Railroad Ploughs Into Tank Car Near Corning—Blaze Spreads To Baggage Car, Two Mail Cars and Passenger Coach—Sixth Probably Fatally Burned—The Dead.

Corning, N. Y., July 11 (AP).—Trapped in the blazing wreckage of four cars of the east-bound Cleveland-New York express of the Erie Railroad, five persons perished in the flames and a sixth was probably fatally burned early today after the passenger locomotive ploughed into a tank car of a west-bound freight that left the tracks as the two trains passed about three miles east of here.

Coals from the passenger locomotive fired the contents of the tank car. The blaze rapidly spread to the baggage car, two mail cars and a passenger coach which had been derailed with the locomotive.

The dead were identified as Fred E. Blake of Hornell, engineer; W. J. Latonik of Susquehanna, Pa., fireman; railway mail clerks, Henry M. Hulbert, 53, and P. A. Fagan, 53, of Salamanca, and a tramp identified as Sam Berger, 38, of Moline, Ill.

Vaughn Rose of New York city, tentatively identified as a passenger in the derailed coach, was extricated from the wreckage and taken to Corning Hospital, so seriously burned that he probably will die, authorities said.

The passenger train left Corning at 12:55 a. m. and passed the west-bound freight about three miles east of the city.

According to railroad officials the locomotive of the two trains were nearly abreast when the first tank car in the freight apparently buckled and left the rails. The passenger locomotive, traveling at a high speed, crashed into it and spread the tank car's inflammable contents over a wide area.

None of the freight car crew was injured. After the collision nearly half of the fifty cars in the freight train buckled and covered both tracks with blazing wreckage.

According to Erie officials the passenger coach was of wooden construction. It was destroyed. Both tracks were blocked and all trains were re-routed over the Lackawanna to Irwin Junction, a twenty-mile detour.

MRS. COLBY PLANS FOR DIVORCE IN RENO.

Reno, Nev., July 11 (AP).—Mrs. Nathalie Sedgwick Colby, wife of Bainbridge Colby, former Secretary of State in the cabinet of Woodrow Wilson, plans to try for a divorce here. Her husband failed to obtain a decree in the Paris courts in March, 1928.

Mrs. Colby and her daughter, Mrs. Robert Cameron Rogers, came to Reno a week ago and took a bungalow at the edge of the city's business district. Although Mrs. Colby could not be seen yesterday, her daughter readily admitted her mother was here for the legal period of three months, after which she expected the divorce action would follow. The attorney for Mrs. Colby declined to discuss the case.

At the time the Paris courts denied Mrs. Colby a decree there was considerable publicity over the granting of quick divorces to Americans.

ABANDON PLANS TO REMODEL CLEVELAND CLINIC.

Cleveland, July 11 (AP).—Fearful of death lingering in the walls of the Cleveland clinic building where poisonous gases exploded last May 15 and killed 123 persons, the directors abandoned plans to remodel the structure, and announced today that they will raise it and erect a new building.

Chemical tests revealed the brown paste-like residue left by the gases, generated by burning x-ray films, had penetrated through the masonry and the directors said they feared sufficient heat would cause the noxious fumes to reappear within the building. So penetrating was the gas, forced through the structure by two terrific explosions, that brick and mortar were saturated with the substance.

TRAIN HITS TOURING CAR. TWO SERIOUSLY HURT.

Wellsville, N. Y., July 11 (AP).—Placed beneath the wreck of their touring car which burst into flames after it was struck at a crossing near Friendship, N. Y., by the Erie Limited, bound from Chicago to New York, Robert and Fred Stewart of Hornell were critically injured this morning. Two other men riding with them were less badly hurt.

Fred Stewart was not expected to live. It was reported at the Wellsville Hospital, Robert Stewart was taken to the hospital at Cuba, seriously injured.

New Figure in Marlow Slaying

New York, July 11 (AP).—An article merchant who owns an armored limousine emerged today as a new figure in the investigation of the slaying of Frank Marlow, Broadway racketeer.

Sought ten days by the police, Ciro Terranova, whom Police Commissioner Whalen contends had an engagement with Marlow on the night of June 24 when he was slain during a ride from Broadway to Queens, accepted an "invitation" to visit headquarters last night.

He was questioned five hours and then permitted to return to his $52,000 home at Pelham, N. Y. He denied having an engagement with Marlow the night of the slaying, but Commissioner Whalen said he would be confronted today by five material witnesses held by the police.

"The five witnesses who dined with Marlow on the night of his death," said Whalen, "and who saw him greeted by a man outside the restaurant shortly after the party broke up, will be asked to look at Terranova. 'All of them have said they saw only the back of the man outside the restaurant. We shall ask them to tell us whether Terranova's back looks like the one they say they saw.'"

Two of Terranova's brothers were slain in gang feuds several years ago and Terranova gave fear of sharing a like fate as his reason for his armored car. Commissioner Whalen said Terranova was not the leader of a powerful Italian secret society sought as the instigator of the Marlow slaying.

Hoover Advises Senate Leaders

To Apply Yard Stick of Adequate Protection to the Pending Tariff Bill at White House Conference Today.

Washington, July 11 (AP).—President Hoover today advised senate leaders to apply the yard stick of "adequate protection" to the pending tariff bill.

The tariff was discussed at a White House conference today attended by Senators Watson of Indiana, the party leader, and Reed, of Pennsylvania, second ranking Republican on the finance committee, and two outstanding protectionists.

The Republican chieftains would not commit themselves afterword on what the effect would be on the house tariff measure by the application of the rule laid down by the President.

The house bill received almost unanimous Republican support. Senator Watson said that the President wants a "sane and sensible" tariff measure. Whether the President considers the house bill "sane and sensible" was not disclosed. The senators would not say either that Mr. Hoover was displeased with the house bill.

Consider Wilson For Farm Board

Washington, July 11 (AP).—Charles A. Wilson, former Commissioner of Agriculture of the State of New York, is being seriously considered by President Hoover for a place on the Federal Farm Board.

Wilson has been recommended by numerous individuals and organizations. He operates a farm near Rochester, N. Y.

Should he be given a place the appointment of a spokesman for the wheat growing industry would then complete the selection of the board's personnel. Secretary Hyde, who is an ex-officio member of the board, is in the middle west looking into possibilities for a wheat man.

DR. CHANDLER SPEAKER AT GREENE COUNTY SOCIETY

Dr. George F. Chandler of this city was the speaker at the July meeting of the Greene County Medical Society held at the New Southampton Hotel in Catskill on Tuesday evening. Dr. Chandler gave an interesting and instructive talk on "America Practices Medicine" in which he contrasted the methods employed by the medical fraternity in this country and in Europe.

Herbert Butts Sentenced as a Second Offender

Records Will Be Filed With County Clerk in Order to Justify Sentence—James Beach Warrant For Morris Pershitz.

Herbert Butts, who was sentenced to seven years in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora Wednesday afternoon in county court, goes up as a second offender under the Baumes law. Convicted of grand larceny in the state of New Jersey Butts denied he had been convicted of a felony when District Attorney Traver moved judgment last week. An adjournment was consequently taken and the records of the New Jersey courts were secured. These records were presented to the court and on that information and the statement made by Butts under oath at a previous conviction the court sentenced him as a second offender.

William A. Kaesher, counsel for Butts, objected to the presenting of the records from New Jersey on the grounds that they were not properly authenticated. Judge Fowler replied that the testimony in the case and were being used for his own guidance in pronouncing sentence, he was considering them only so far as they guided him in imposing sentence. The records would be filed with the county clerk in order to justify sentencing as a second offender.

Abandonment Case.

The only other matter taken up was the Morris Pershitz abandonment case. Pershitz, indicted for abandoning his child, at first denied being the father but during the past several months had been in the courts applying for permission to see the child. Since indictment he has been contributing toward the support of the child through a fund deposited with the county treasurer.

Now that fund is practically exhausted and there is only sufficient funds for about two more payments. In order that the child may be supported until the fall term of court District Attorney Traver asked the court to make some suggestion which would provide for the needed relief.

Pershitz had been residing in Brooklyn and his counsel had been notified of the situation by Mr. Traver and had stated that he would attempt to make some adjustment which would be satisfactory until the fall term. Later however he stated he was unable to locate his client. Consequently last week Mr. Traver stated he would move the case for trial this week and prepare for trial, calling an extra panel of jurors if necessary. Pershitz's counsel was notified of that, subpoenas were issued for witnesses and also Pershitz, who is under $300 cash bail awaiting trial, failed to respond to the subpoena.

Issue Bench Warrant.

Wednesday Mr. Traver stated these facts to the court and asked for the issuing of a bench warrant and forfeiture of bail. An attempt to locate Pershitz at the Brooklyn address where the last subpoena was served failed. He had since moved and his whereabouts are unknown.

Under the circumstances Judge Fowler issued the order for a bench warrant and stated that he was doing so for two reasons, one that Pershitz had failed to answer the subpoena issued and second the fact that under the circumstances the bail in the sum of $300 was insufficient and inadequate. Since Pershitz failed to appear for trial witnesses were excused and 10 o'clock Thursday were excused and an effort will be made to locate Pershitz and bring him back to Ulster county. An adjournment of court was taken until July 17 at 2 o'clock.

MISS DOROTHY WILSON CRITICALLY INJURED

Chicago, July 11 (AP).—A blood transfusion was performed early today to save the life of Miss Dorothy Wilson, debutante daughter of Milton Wilson, a director of Wilson Brothers, manufacturers, who was critically injured yesterday when her motor car was struck by an automobile driven by Miss Helen Hertz, 19-year-old daughter of John Hertz, former president of the Yellow Cab Company. Miss Hertz who faces charges of assault with a deadly weapon, is at liberty on her own recognizance.

The transfusion was necessitated by hemorrhages resulting from a crushed pelvis. Two ribs were fractured and Miss Wilson also was suffering from shock. Physicians said her condition was "grave," but that she was holding her own early today.

Chicago police were told that Miss Hertz drove through a spotlight, ramming the Wilson car. Both machines were wrecked. Miss Wilson and her chauffeur were taken to a hospital, although the latter was not seriously hurt. Miss Hertz was accompanied by a chauffeur, but was driving at the time of the accident, police said.

Will Appoint Board to Study Banking Reforms

Governor Roosevelt Will Place Recommendations of Robert Moses Before Commission—Declares Evidence Shows Warmer Accepted Gifts.

Rochester, N. Y., July 11 (AP).—A special governor's commission was in process of formation today to study banking reforms recommended by Robert Moses, Moreland act commissioner. In his report on the $7,000,000 failure of the City Trust Company.

Governor Roosevelt announced his decision to place the recommendations before a body composed of business men, bankers and legislators as soon as he had read the Moses report.

The report sets forth in detail the financial operations of the late Francesco M. Ferrari, head of the City Trust Company; denounces Frank H. Warder, former state banking superintendent, as a "faithless public official," and censures Judge Francis X. Mancuso, of the court of general sessions, for "lack of frankness and accuracy" in his testimony and for "neglect of his banking duties as chairman of the board of the City Trust."

Mr. Moses included in his report recommendations regarding administration of the state department of banking and amendment of banking laws to place private banks under state or national supervision.

"The suggestions are of the utmost importance, and because of their importance, require immediate and careful study so that no time be lost in making recommendations to the next session of the legislature."

The City Trust Company closed its doors last February, shortly after the death of Ferrari. On March 22, Warder resigned. The same day counsel for depositors asked Acting Governor Lehman to order a Moreland act investigation.

Warder, Anthony Di Paola, former treasurer of the City Trust Company; Frederico Ferrari, brother of the late president, and three others were ordered held during the inquiry on criminal charges to face a special grand jury. The report makes no recommendations for further criminal action.

Variety of Cases In Police Court

Rhinbeck Man Jailed for 30 Days for Disorderly Conduct—Louis Sampson Must Support His Family—Other Cases.

Louis Bann, 42, of Rhinbeck, was arrested Wednesday afternoon by Officer Camp who charged Bann with disorderly conduct in loitering about the streets with no visible means of support. According to the police, Bann had also attempted to pass some bad checks. When arrested he had one check on his person drawn to the order of "Louis D. Schmidt" and signed "J. L. Hudson."

This morning in police court Bann explained that he had come to Kingston to make some purchases. Questioned about the check found on his person he blandly explained that "Schmidt" and "Bann" meant the same, although the name "Bann" was Hungarian, and the name "Schmidt" was German. He had purchased a suit of clothes, tendering a check in payment, but later the proprietor of the store had taken the suit away from him and returned him the check.

Judge Shufeldt sentenced him to 30 days in the county jail on the disorderly conduct charge.

Must Support Family.

Louis Sampson, a negro of 151 Abel street, was arrested on a warrant sworn out by his wife who charged him with failure to support his family.

Sampson explained today in police court that he was supporting two families, his own and his mother. He said he gave his wife $6 a week. Judge Shufeldt informed him that his first obligation was to his family and that $6 a week was not enough and that he would hereafter have to pay her $12 a week.

Traffic Cases.

Alfred R. Marks of Rosendale, arrested for driving his car through a funeral procession at Albany avenue and East St. James street, was given a suspended sentence with a warning that it was a violation of the law and to be more careful in the future.

Walter V. Freeman of Mt. Marion, arrested for parking in the restricted area of John street, was given a suspended sentence. John A. Freeman of Albany, arrested for parking in the restricted area on Wall street, had his hearing adjourned to Saturday. Richard Bronson of Woodstock, arrested for parking in the restricted area on John street, will have a hearing later.

Herman LaTour was fined $2 for parking in the restricted area on Fair street. C. C. Oliver, who passed a red light, was given a suspended sentence.

Oxygen Squads Revive Man

New York, July 11 (AP).—After a 37-hour battle by a police rescue squad, in which 172 tanks of oxygen were used, a man who tried to die by gas inhalation was recovering today.

When Paul Brignetti, 45-year-old Italian World War veteran, was found Tuesday morning in a gas-filled room at Coney Island he was unconscious and the ambulance crew at first believed he was dead. However, he asked several policemen to get in the ambulance and artificial respiration was employed on the way to the hospital.

Three rescue squads of eight men each took up the fight with an inhalator and yesterday afternoon the patient regained consciousness. He was unable to speak but physicians whispered to him that a battle was being waged to save his life and asked him to help. From then on his recovery was rapid and last night he fell into a natural sleep.

Four tanks of oxygen were used every hour, each containing 120 cubic feet. Members of the rescue crew lost two to six pounds in weight during their ordeal.

Police said that Brignetti had been worried because a doctor told him he was seriously ill. Physicians said that unless pneumonia should develop he would recover.

STUDENT AVIATOR AND INSTRUCTOR KILLED

Hackensack, N. J., July 11 (AP).—Collapse of one of the wings of an old airplane was blamed today for the death of a student aviator and instructor.

Major William Strong, of Arizona, the instructor, and Leo Crozier, who was learning to fly the plane in which he had recently purchased an interest, were killed when the aircraft fell 1,600 feet at Rochelle Park yesterday.

Witnesses said a wing was seen to crumple. Both occupants were dead when taken from the wreckage. Mechanics at Trautwein Field, a private flying field, said the plane was 12 years old. Crozier had flown in it only a few times.

Major Strong was formerly an army pilot. He served with General Pershing during the expedition into Mexico and in the World War.

Mrs. Rogers Granted Divorce.

The Hague, July 11 (AP).—The Dutch courts have granted an absolute divorce to Mrs. Henry H. Rogers from her husband, H. H. Rogers, Standard Oil magnate. The two are parents of Millicent Rogers Ramos, the former Countess Salim.

Trace Opium Smuggling Ring

San Francisco, July 11 (AP).—Ramifications of a purported international opium smuggling ring were being traced by government officials here today as they awaited instructions from Washington regarding Mrs. Susie Ying Kao, wife of the suspended Chinese vice consul here, in whose baggage a fortune in opium was found Monday.

Investigators last night announced that "incriminating evidence" had been found in Mrs. Kao's personal baggage, which was opened after the opium had been found. It was said to have implicated "a high official" in the Chinese consulate here.

United States Attorney George J. Haffield said only Mrs. Kao's quasi-diplomatic standing had prevented her arrest thus far. He said he expected instructions from the department of justice today on the case.

Investigators declared they had found "irrefutable proof of Mrs. Kao's culpability" in her personal baggage. She has insisted she was unaware of the presence of opium in her trunk and that she had been made the dupe of smugglers.

Federal officials also said they had learned Mrs. Kao would have received $23,000 if she had been successful in getting the opium past the customs inspectors here. They declared prominent Chinese of San Francisco and Honolulu as well as others in China have been implicated and that the names of the ring's leaders were known to them.

CLARA BOW ENGAGED TO WED HARRY RICHMAN

Los Angeles, July 11 (AP).—Clara Bow, referred to as the "It" girl of the screen, is engaged to wed Harry Richman, musical comedy actor and night club proprietor of New York.

The marriage probably will take place within a month, pending completion of pictures which Miss Bow and Richman are making here.

Richman broke the news of the engagement yesterday. Many times reported engaged since the beginning of her film career, Miss Bow has had occasion to deny such reports, but this one she confirmed.

As soon as we complete our respective pictures," said the actress, "we are going to be married."

Miss Bow, who has been slightly ill as the result of what her physician diagnosed as food poisoning, is recuperating at her Beverly Hills home.

The romance, which began when the actress was on a vacation in New York several months ago, was renewed when Richman arrived in Hollywood recently to take part in his first talkie.

Richman began his career at a cafe near Los Angeles, later going to New York where he first met with success. He was married to Yvonne Stevenson in 1913 at Santa Ana, Cal., and divorced in 1922. Miss Bow never has been married.

Weather Holds Up Rescue Work

Pembroke, Wales, July 11 (AP).—Weather in Saint George's Channel today made immediate further rescue and salvage work above the sunken submarine H-47 all but impossible.

The extensive crews assembled for the almost vain attempts at lifting the submersible and possibly saving some of the 29 men entombed in it marked time impatiently, awaiting a change in the direction of the wind and a lessening of the high seas.

The salvage crew withdrew temporarily to Milford Haven, leaving a buoy moored above the spot where the ship slipped to after it collided Tuesday with the L-12 and sank. The depth was believed to be 330 feet, far below the level at which divers ordinarily can work.

The submarine L-69 yesterday tried to communicate with the submarine by sound telegraphy, using a bell and the Morse code, but there were no answering signals. It was thought possible some of the men aboard might still have been alive and able to work their craft's apparatus.

A corrected casualty list of the crew of the sunken craft shows that three were saved, with 20 now missing. The third man, heretofore unlisted, was a petty officer who had come up for a breath of air just before the collision.

The L-12, which collided with the death vessel, was berthed at Milford Haven. It was full of chlorine gas. Tugs were pumping fresh air into her.

Ahrenberg and Crew in Iceland

Copenhagen, Denmark, July 11 (AP).—Advices received here from Vigvat, Greenland, state that Captain Albin Ahrenberg and his crew in the airplane Stenige reached Vigvat at 6 o'clock this morning in a motorboat after landing at Kungait Bay near Reykjavik, Iceland.

The word from Vigvat was that Captain Ahrenberg had intended to fly over the inland ice of Greenland but encountered increasingly bad weather and decided to fly along the Greenland coast.

Perceiving that they would be unable to continue to Vigvat, the Swedish airmen made an excellent landing in the dark last night and then lit fires on the shore to attract attention.

These beacons were noticed by the motor-boat Quatro, which put in and took them safely to Vigvat. They intended to return to Kungait as soon as possible to fetch their machine.

An Error Corrected.

The amount of the state income tax apportioned among the towns and villages of Ulster county this year is $15,548.22 more than last year, and not $29,095.69, as erroneously stated Wednesday.

THOUGHT NEW CURRENCY WAS COUNTERFEIT.

Laredo, Texas, July 11 (AP).—Thirty Americans who sought the bars of Nuevo Laredo Mexico across the line from here yesterday, with the new, small size American paper money, returned home without their thirst quenched.

Barkeepers refused to accept the money in payment of drinks, believing it was counterfeit. Many cafes also refused to take the new currency.

Later in the day the bartenders and restaurant men wept bitter tears after learning they had ruined one of the best day's business of the year when the Yankees were willing to spend to "show off" their new money.

Noted Dancer to Give Recital

The performances at the Maverick Theatre for Friday and Saturday nights, July 12 and 13, will be put on by Alexis Kosloff, famous dancer of the Metropolitan Opera House, who in addition to giving some of his own specialty dance numbers, will import some celebrities from his own company for the Maverick nights.

Among those who will appear on the program will be Luma Nestor, prima ballerina of the Russian Opera Company; Clara Larionova, Emma D. Miller, prima ballerina of the Fine Arts Opera Company; Carmelita, a Spanish dancer; Valentina Kachubka, leading dancer lately with Les Noces at the Metropolitan Opera House with Stakovsky, and Alyssa, niece of Theodore Roosevelt, and now resident at Byrdcliffe, Woodstock.

Alexis Kosloff has toured all the countries of the civilized world at the head of his own company, danced before all the celebrities of the stage world; under his tutelage many dancers who have won fame include John Barrymore, Alice Brady, Hope Hampton, Ann Pennington, Corinne Grimh, Mlle. Dazie and others. He has arranged many popular and successful stage productions. It is expected that his appearance at the Maverick Theatre will draw large crowds. The performances are for two nights, Friday and Saturday of this week, commencing at 8:45 o'clock.

Nurse Gains 7 lbs. in 2 Weeks With Yeast and Iron

"I am a nurse at the hospital," writes Miss Martha Burns, "and want to let you know that I am glad to recommend your Ironized Yeast." "It gave me a good appetite, got strong and gained 7 pounds in 2 weeks. I could write all day about how much good Ironized Yeast did me. You would be surprised at the strength I gained in 2 or 3 days." "People everywhere are amazed at the wonderful benefits of Ironized Yeast. Many write they were doubtful when they started. But after taking it regularly for only 3 or 4 weeks they gained 5 to 15 pounds. Ugly hollows fill out. Shiny hair becomes gracefully rounded. Bleached skin gets clear and beautiful. Only when Yeast is Ironized is it more effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building and strengthening values of Yeast. Pleasant tablets in a handy bottle. Never cause gas or bloating. Safe—no harmful drugs. Go to any druggist today and get a full size treatment of Ironized Yeast. If after this generous trial you are not delighted, your money back."

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. McBride's Drug Stores, Inc.

Dainty Flower-Patched Frock for Little Girls

Patches of organdie applied to the underside of voile make colorful a frock for girls eight, ten and twelve, says the Woman's Home Companion. Placed on the wrong side of collar, cuffs and skirt before the hem is turned, the organdie will not ravel even in frequent washings. The sketch shows a strip of the finished work under flesh-colored voile. The first flower is rose-colored organdie, the next yellow, the third light blue. Light green leaves come in between. Flowers, leaves and vine are outlined with simple running stitches. The design repeats around the skirt and the work goes quickly. There is a lot of color to show for an hour's handwork. The dress illustrated is one of the new styles with straight upper part and low waistline.

On Rearing Children - from CRIB to COLLEGE

Parents should face the fact that a large percentage of pupils today attending American high schools are not by nature suited to the work of colleges. This unsuitability may be based on various kinds of ineptitude, such as ill health, or nervous instability; but the kind of ineptitude which stands out most clearly in studies of college students is based on incapacity for abstract thinking. The good liberal arts college is so organized as to require a superior order of ability to work with symbolic relations.

Remember that the child's interest and curiosity in sex is natural, normal and healthy; that it is only by making such queries that the child can eventually understand his world. He has to make these queries about many things—sex is only one—and if you have considered a child's questions, or kept track of them over any considerable period of time, you have found that only a small group of them have to do with sex.

Daily sun baths are excellent tonics for children but they should be given with discrimination. The Spartans put their children out in the sun and air to harden them for a strenuous life. We use sunlight on the unprotected skin as a preventive of anemia and rickets; to increase resistance against disease; to make better muscle tone; and to give the added stimulus, which, as the appetite grows and the right foods are given for a child to choose from, will combat malnutrition.

Almost all babies are overdressed. Whether it be indoors in winter or outdoors in summer, they are swaddled in enveloping blankets and wrapped in layers of woolen garments until it is no wonder that they eventually land in the doctor's office with one complaint or another.

The modern trailside museum has seized upon a great opportunity for the education of youth. The exhibits of the wayside, the views across the country, the plants of swamp and upland, the teeming animal life of streams and ponds, all constitute a real museum—a museum without confining walls, without an enclosing roof, and filled with specimens not dead but living, a changing program from hour to hour, day to day, and season to season.

To those accustomed to the operation of electrical washing machines the present types of machine seem marvels of speed and simplicity of operation. But the sure, certain ease of the practiced operator will not come to the beginner overnight. No matter how completely the machine has been demonstrated, no matter how carefully the beginner has read her directions, some little period of adjustment will be necessary while she learns to change her routine from hand methods to machine practice. A little patience and practice on the part of the new operator will soon bring her to the point where her machine will do for her all that the manufacturers have promised.

Little Gardens Club Exhibit

The Little Gardens Club is holding an exhibit of cut flowers today and tomorrow in the show windows of the Gullian Oriental Rug Shop, No. 48 Main street, formerly Wilkwyck Inn. All of the flowers in the exhibition were grown in the gardens of the club members.

There are two very artistic baskets, one filled with large, luscious spikes of deep blue delphinium with a purple tinge, very large white iris, two or three deep rose-purple iris blooms and maidenhair ferns for the foliage. The other holds "baby's breath", white and lemon colored honeysuckle blossoms with long horns, coral flowers graceful spikes of a scarlet flower blending into yellow a deep orange cluster flower of silk-weed variety.

In vases there are lemon lilies and vivid blue flowers; deep blue delphinium and light blue delphinium, with the large white iris and the rose-purple iris with maidenhair fern gracefully arranged.

In a low glass container of a bowl shape there is a very pretty and homey arrangement of different colored verbenas, white perennial peas, baby's breath, etc.

The exhibition is attracting considerable attention and is well worth seeing.

SNOBBERY IN A MOVIE.

Is a movie-theatre usher's social position superior to that of a "jockey" in the United States navy, and is it beneath the dignity of the average movie patron to sit beside a young man wearing the navy's uniform? Apparently an usher in a New York movie house thought so and had the courage of his remarkable convictions, but probably he is not so sure now, for he has been sentenced to sixty days in jail for "insulting the uniform of the United States Navy."

It appears the Seaman Collins of the U. S. S. Wyoming, on shore leave, took his mother to the movies and sat in orchestra seats. Collins, of course wearing his uniform. As he behaved himself and in no way disturbed the other patrons, obviously his uniform was his only offense. Apparently it was regarded as a very serious one by the lordly usher, who ordered the sailor out—and his mother, too, it seems. Later the judge informed the aristocratic young alms-jumper: "Eleven years ago you would have thrown yourself on this young man's neck and dragged him in"—eleven years ago when the navy was protecting America from German submarines.

A curious incident, possibly significant, as the judge implied, of the great change since the World War's issues and ideals have so completely faded from the public mind.

MODERNIZING GREECE.

Modern Greece, usually regarded as backward, shows alertness and enterprise. The Greek government has just spent more than a million dollars helping along the introduction of up-to-date taxicab service. It did this by the practical method of indemnifying the owners of horse cabs, who naturally resisted change, and helping them to substitute motor taxicabs for the old type. The result is 1,000 automobiles added already to the taxi fleet, and the "motorization" of the country proceeds apace.

American cities, while priding themselves on their own progress, might learn another lesson from the ancient land where most of our modern ideas were born. We are motorized far more thoroughly than any country of the Old World, but nearly all of our cities still suffer from equine transportation. The biggest remaining obstacle to motor traffic on city streets is the horse-drawn vehicle. Sooner or later the cities will have to banish horses. They seem strangely slow about it.

VITAMINS MADE EASY.

It was sure to come sooner or later, and it has come sooner than might have been expected. Dietetic education has worked fast. Food science triumphs. Industry naturally steps in to do its bit. And so we see the organization of a big "vitamin corporation" for "the extraction of health-producing vitamins A, D and E from various substances." Probably the other letters of the vitamin alphabet, too, will soon go into quantity production and be placed on the market in standardized forms, purchasable at the corner drug store and taken into one's system as easily as a soda mint tablet.

There are obvious advantages in this prospect. It will be so easy to get what vitamins we need to keep us in health, prevent dental decay, etc., that we shall not have to engage in laborious study and analysis of food-stuffs. We can simply swallow at one gulp our daily quota of these mysterious little wonder-workers, and then eat the sort of food we want with a clear conscience.

There are said to be about 150 lobbies at Washington, all engaged in trying to influence the votes of Congressmen, but there is demand for the investigation of only two—the tariff lobby or lobbies and the prohibition lobby directed by the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Why are these two only attacked and the other 148 left in peace? President Roosevelt once held that there were "good" and "bad" trusts. Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts may have his doubts as to whether there are any good or useful lobbies, but he appears to be "unofficially" convinced that there are some more harmful than others.

Michael Eichen of Milwaukee started out the other day in a 14-foot boat and rowed across Lake Michigan to Grand Haven, a distance of 84 miles. It took him 24 hours. He is believed to be the first who ever did it. People who live on the water coast tend to scorn the great lakes as mere ponds. A Boston lady who had that notion, on seeing Lake Michigan for the first time, exclaimed in astonishment: "Why, it's the sea!" All the lakes look and act like oceans on occasions. At her rowing, Mr. Eichen might start at Chicago and row for a thousand miles on those inland seas without doubting on his course.

The novel idea of a 3,000-mile barbed-wire fence along the Canadian border to stop liquor smuggling was attributed by the New York Herald Tribune to Assistant Secretary Lowman, but as Secretary Mellon has since described the proposition as "senseless," the fence is not likely to be constructed. A Chinese Wall might be more effective, but would be rather expensive.

Apparently no other country can compete with Holland in the matter of blue laws. It is reported that at Reuphen in that country a moving-picture theatre has been padlocked for five years because a man and woman (who happened to be his wife) were found seated in adjoining chairs, contrary to law.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

DEEP BREATHING.

I saw two army sergeants put their respective squads through some physical training.

When they came to the breathing exercises part of the work, one sergeant had the men take in long deep breaths as they raised the arms from sides to an overhead position; the men meanwhile making considerable noise as they drew the air into the lungs and blew it out again.

Just how deeply they did breathe was known only to the men themselves. The other sergeant directed his squad to run twice around two large tents at a little distance from the parade ground. When they returned there wasn't any question about the deepness of their breathing; every man had done so much work that he had to breathe deeply. Now you ask: "Isn't deep breathing good for you, even if you just take long breaths without running or other exercise?"

Research men have been able to show that normally about one-fifth of the blood in the lungs all the time but that if deep breaths are taken this amount can be greatly increased.

Now, if you can get an increased amount of blood into your lungs, and keep it there for a little longer period than usual, it is bound to have a most beneficial effect upon the whole system.

And one of the practical ways of using this knowledge is in lowering the blood pressure in cases of high blood pressure. Persons with small lung capacity, or those suffering from gas pressure in stomach and intestine which prevents the floor of the chest from coming down as low as it should, usually have high blood pressure.

If deep breathing exercises are taken, or if the intestinal condition is corrected so that there is no gas pressure, the blood pressure comes down many points.

So much more blood is able to remain in the lungs at one time that it relieves the rest of the system of just that much and thereby lessens the pressure.

But even if you haven't high blood pressure a few deep breaths two or three times a day will "ventilate" your blood.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

MODENA

Modena, July 11.—Saturday evening, between the hours of eleven and twelve an accident occurred on the state highway near Modena, Italy, when a Nash roadster headed north, and a Reo touring car headed south, collided. The collision was due to glaring headlights. After the cars smashed into each other, the Nash swerved to the left, went over a slight embankment into a field adjoining the road and landed upright, but considerably damaged, as a twisted wheel, bent fender, etc., testified. The Reo which remained on the road had a broken front axle,

SANCTUARY

SIR RICHARD followed on Truffant where she rode before, crouched upon her pony, never at loss and never halting until they had reached a windswept desolation, void of trees, where rose a jagged outline of ruined wall and tower, and beyond this a dark, bush-like embankment crowned by a thing at which he recoiled instinctively, a shaft and cross-beam wherefrom dangled a grisly shape. "What dreadful place is this?" cried he, staring up at the gibbet. "Dreadful indeed, my chivalry!" she answered. "This few dreads venture might hereabouts a night."

"And wherefore bring me?" he demanded. "Would ye put me in mind of my own possible end? Perchance to dangle so, in rogues' chains, 'tis evil sight!" "Yet, 'tis only death," "Ay, but in such fearful shape!" "True, my lord. And his soul may rest this night as well as if his poor bones lay in hallowed grave, for he was kindly to the poor folk."

"Ha, you knew him?" She nodded. "James Ahearn, he was."

"What, the highwayman?" "Even so, of the High Toby game were he indeed. . . . a kindly soul."

"And now, poor wretch, a thing to shudder at! Come let us go!" "Nay," said she, "for 'tis here we must hide. For the shadow of death is all about ye, by reason of that which should be on thy finger and is not! So come thy ways now!"

Forthwith she led the way down through a secluded valley until before them loomed a ruined arch flanked by crumbling masonry. And now they rode across the smooth turf, shut in from the blustering wind until old Truffant stopped suddenly in a deep recess beneath a narrow opening in the masonry, where they grew very thick; leaning from her pony she groped amid these leaves and presently drew thence a cord, which she tugged at once, twice, thrice, and set very silent and motionless. And after some while the ivy leaves in this particular corner parted, and from the very ground the pale oval of a face glimmered up at them, where to the gypsy addressed herself: "All's well, pal," said she. "'Tis Truffant! Camlo with a friend!"

"Aha!" answered the face in jovial tones. "Greetings, what's to do? Who is't ye bring, m'am?"

Sir Richard leaned forward, peering, for this was voice he knew well.

"'Tis merely myself, Black Nick."

"Lord!" gasped the voice, then was a sound of scrambling, and Black Nick himself stepped lightly into the moonbeams.

"Why—Sir Richard!" he exclaimed. "What's amiss, sir?"

"Murder, Nick! My cousin Julian lies dead and I am running for my life."

"Murder, sir!" repeated Nick. "But sure 'tis killed in duel, ye mean?"

"It is murder, and, Nick, my ring was beside Julian's body, sufficient evidence to damn me!"

"Mebbe, sir, to them as don't know ye, but not to them as do."

"Such faith should hearten any man. Howbeit, a fugitive am I. So either come I seeking sanctuary."

"And you're heartily welcome! Moreover, there ain't another such likely place as this, as m'am Truffant knows—"

"And faith," said Sir Richard, "Mrs. Camlo, honour me by accepting this!" And he proffered her his purse.

"Nay!" said she, shaking her head. "Though the Romans be the poor folk, yet they are also the proud folk sometimes."

"A thousand pardons, good dame," answered Sir Richard. "Pray, then, wilt call a blessing down upon my head?"

"A blessing?" repeated Truffant. "A gypsy's blessing, then, on ye, 'th' last o' th' Guyfords, and may

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

A Resume of Current Fashions Likely to Develop Into Fall Fashions.

New York—With the resort season in full swing the public has an excellent opportunity to measure the merit of the newer fads and to decide whether they are worthy to be called fashions.

Certain features have been generally accepted, which means that these will influence the early fall mode. For instance color combination seems to be vital to resort fashion even including the scant attire one encounters on the beach. Everywhere one goes, whether by land or sea there is the same respect for color ensemble and while white was expected to make a smart re-entrée this summer, it has fallen decidedly behind color. All white stockings and all white shoes have vanished from the scene—white hats however remain but usually because the costume which they complete is a combination of white with brilliant color. The Grand Steeplechase run recently at Auteuil as reported by cable was conspicuous by its smart attendance many of whom affected white with royal blue accessories. There is also a great deal of white with brown seen in smart places, and white with red remains but the entire white costume does not seem to have made any remarkable impression to date.

Another unqualified success of the season is the jacket costume irrespective of what material one may be considering. Cottons, silk, wools, linens and the host of things which are neither fish, flesh nor fowl so to speak are to be found in two and three piece ensembles, with tucked-in blouses of decided importance. The black linen suit, because of its novelty, and also because of its suitability to town wear registers as an interesting and important fashion.

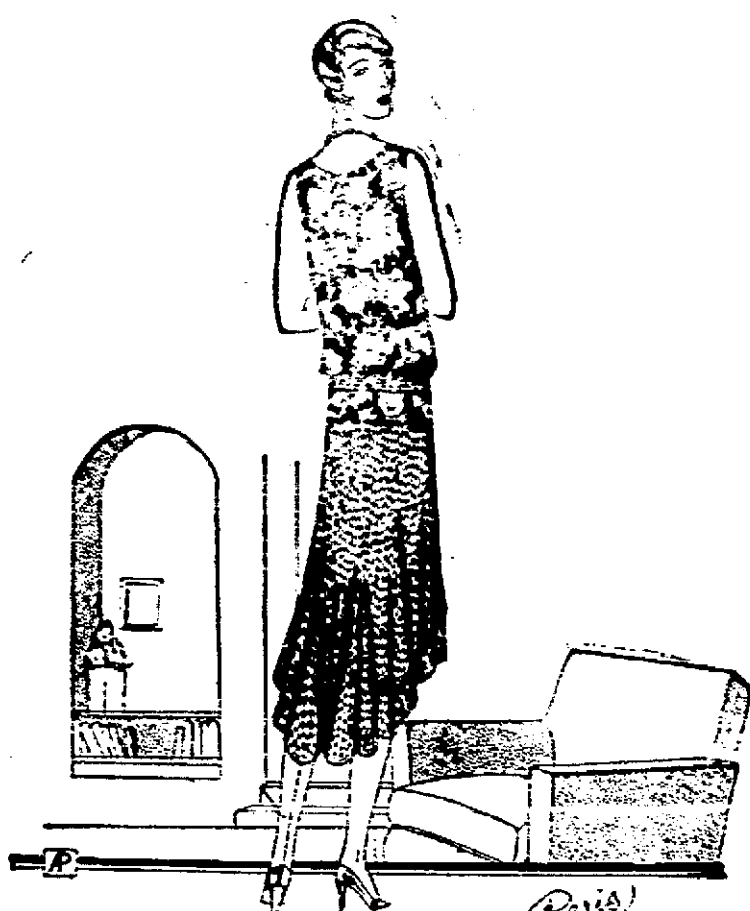

Linens and cottons have come up to the predictions made for them. Figured chiffons have more than justified their worth, replacing crepes to quite a remarkable extent. It was also reported from Paris races that fashion was being expressed by dots and dashes—polka dots galore were worn, with dashes in the form of stripes, checks and plaids. Pin dot jacket costumes seemed particularly attractive. Before dismissing the pin dot, and the miniature floral pattern it may be mentioned that several smart women have affected bathing suits of these designs. These are fashioned on tunic lines and worn over the knitted swimming suit by women who for reasons best known to themselves prefer this extra layer of covering.

The general acceptance of the flared skirt for all occasions even for sports and house dresses may also be reported. This has already influenced the early autumn silhouette which is both wider and longer than formerly. Evening dresses have dropped their front hems so to speak to meet the back one, while daytime dresses cover the knee with at least three inches to spare, and have a way of dipping at the back. This is true of the jacket costume as well as the dress.

One can no longer deny the straw hat. It has at last returned to high favor and is reported from the French races as being sometimes flower trimmed and softened by a transparent hair edge. Natural undyed straws are looked on with favor.

The no-socking-peril which has disturbed the slumbers of hostelry is upon us. Naturally conservative women wear them, but a surprising number of women go barelegged or have taken to sports socks by the way of compromise.

Opera pumps remain generally favored and slip on gloves lead.

One of the innovations is Miranda's three piece dinner and theater suit with separate skirt and short jacket of black jet beads and a printed children blouse with slashed back.

Eleanor Gunn Says

That a revival of semi-precious and marcasite jewelry is cited for fall with abundant interest also in jewelry reminiscent of Civil War days. Coral is already in fashion and presages further revivals from the same era.

While henna is expected to succeed the successful capucine shades for fall, they will also be retained for evening and dark browns loom large on the Autumn horizon.

Yokes, for both hip and shoulder will not be hard to bear this season if their present popularity continues.

Brilliant blue tones for both day and evening have been supplemented by a delicate, almost baby blue for evening.

Printed chiffon has gained over printed crepe this summer.

Among the latest novelties in umbrella handles are those of crystal in dog head design.

Chenille in tricot effects is cited as one of the most important millinery materials for fall.

Back brims are lengthening in sympathy with growing hair.

Novelty beret continues to be imported, this style of hat being particularly suited to early autumn.

During the week smart shop windows in New York have been largely given over to white, yellow and brown.

Newport sponsors cotton and linen ensembles topped by straw hats.

Concentrated
Dye

In the little cake of Sunset you'll find a concentrated dye that does a lot of dyeing. Sunset is not the ordinary aniline dye in an envelope. Sunset has in it the best quality, fast dye and lots of it.

But Sunset goes farther—it is a combination, all-purpose dye—dyes all fabrics in one dye bath. And not only dyes them perfectly—but dyes them the same shade at one and the same time. Cleans the fabrics too in the same operation.

Sunset in every one of its 22 standard colors gives a true, even color that rivals the work of professional dyers at one tenth the cost!

Sunset is easy to use, is clean, never spoils materials or stains the hands—no fuss—no bother—so simple that it is just fun to use it. If you have never used Sunset you do not realize how good a modern dye can be.

Get Sunset at your dealers; but be sure it's Sunset Soap Dyes—that's the sure way to protect yourself from failure—like a cake.

Ask the dealer to show you the Sunset Color Chart. If he cannot supply Sunset Dyes send 15c per cake to—

The best salt shaker is no better than the salt inside

MADE of glass or porcelain, made of precious metals, the finest salt shaker is only as good as the salt with which it's filled. If that salt clogs and cakes when days are damp—as ordinary salt does—then the shaker is virtually useless.

Fortunately, there's a salt that will give unceasing service in any sort of salt shaker. It's International Salt. A rich, savory salt. The cleanest, purest salt that can be made.

International Salt is smooth and free-running always—in any weather—anywhere. It will never get hard or lumpy. It's guaranteed. The big blue-and-gray carton pictured here costs only a nickel at your grocer's.

"Rinso for whiter washes and for safety!"
say makers of 36 leading washers

When the makers of 36 leading washers urge women to use Rinso—you can be sure there's a reason.

In tub or washer, Rinso washes clothes the whitest, brightest milkiest white you ever saw! Its thick suds loosen dirt. Not a bit of hard rubbing, no boiling—all you need to do is rinse.

Clothes last longer this safe way. Hands are spared, too. And my, how economical Rinso is! One cupful gives more suds than two cupfuls of lightweight, puffed-up soaps . . . because it's granulated, compact.

For tub washing—you just can't do without Rinso! It soaks clothes whiter than they can be scrubbed. Get the BIG handy household package now.

Celebrate Battle Of Minisink on Monday, July 22

The celebration of the sesquicentennial of the Battle of Minisink near Harrisville a week from next Monday is one of thirty-five similar events that are being held this summer by New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and New Hampshire to commemorate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the campaign of General John Sullivan and General James Clinton during the American Revolution to break the Indian-Tory power in the border country of New York and Pennsylvania.

Beginning at Canajoharie June 18 and ending at Newton near Elmira Sept. 25, programs are being carried out by local historical societies with the cooperation of the State Department of Education and the New York State Historical Society. For the celebration of the sesquicentennial of the Battle of Minisink, the historical societies of Sullivan, Orange and Ulster counties combined and the plans have been formulated by a general committee of one hundred men and women from the three counties of which Dr. W. L. Cuddeback, president of the Minisink Valley Historical Society, of Port Jervis, is chairman.

Three of these historical celebrations have been arranged by the Educational Department of the State of New York in cooperation with an advisory committee appointed by the governor and the legislature and the Pennsylvania Historical Commission. On Sept. 14, a celebration will be held at the site of the Genesee castle to mark the western point reached by the Sullivan-Clinton expedition. On Sept. 21, there will be a program at Geneva for the entire Finger Lake region and on Sept. 25 the third event will be held on the Newton battle field near Elmira, where the decisive engagement of the campaign occurred. Education pageants with several thousand participants will be presented at these places.

But while the state is making elaborate preparations for these three major observances, it is cooperating with plans that are more local, such as the Battle of Minisink. Celebrations are therefore arranged for Canajoharie, Cherry Valley, Minisink, Latchworth Park, Cooperstown, Oneonta, Unadilla-Sidney, Afton, Onondaga, Binghamton, Owego, Athens, Waverly, Chemung, West Salamanca, Canandaigua, Honeoye, Conesus Inlet, Cuylerville, Seneca Falls, Waterloo, Geneva, Keshong, Syracuse, Kandala, Canoga, Union Springs, Cayuga Castle, Horseheads, Ithaca, Montour Falls, Painted Post, Elmira and the Newton battle field. All these thriving communities of New York and Pennsylvania were scenes of the border warfare between the Indian and Tories on one side and the Americans on the other under Generals Sullivan and Clinton. All over this section local historical societies are arranging commemorative programs but it is a matter of doubt if any preparation is more thorough than the affair planned by historians of Sullivan, Orange and Ulster counties for the Minisink battle ground.

When thousands of people motor through Forestburgh and Barryville to the battle field a week from Monday, in addition to hearing the morning and afternoon programs, they will have opportunity to visit scenes of the battle. That ledge near which the Americans threw up a breast work will be interesting to see. So will that corner where ninety patriots fought all day long in the blazing sun. The rock on the north-west side besides which one man fought all day, the cliff of rocks behind which Dr. Tusten treated the wounded until they were all tomahawked, the camp at Half Way Brook, where the council was held, the place where the Indians crossed the Delaware with their plunder, the ground near the marsh where Americans died of thirst, the grave from which the bones were removed to be buried under the monument at Goshen are places to be visited as people walk over the battle field. Men will be there who know these places and they will be pleased to answer questions. By restricting the speeches to five or ten minutes each, the committee believes there will be ample time for these inspections.

While the event on July 22 will commemorate what occurred at one particular place on July 22, 1779, it must not be forgotten that it was part of a great campaign. Had it not been for the punitive expedition of Generals Sullivan and Clinton, what is now western New York and Pennsylvania would be under the Union Jack instead of the Stars and Stripes. By capturing this land,

America was already in possession when the time came to talk peace with the British crown and to establish boundaries. Of especial interest to Sullivan county people is this sesquicentennial, for it was in the town of Highlands where the Battle of Minisink was fought, and it was in honor of that distinguished patriot, John Sullivan, that Sullivan county was named.

Extract Pleasure From "Pianistry of Dread"

"An ingenious American," says Dr. Joseph Label, in "Don't Be Afraid," "has characterized fear... as a 'dreadful sport.' Just as in various games we expose ourselves to danger, knowing with certainty that we shall escape, just as we enjoy the pleasant tickle feeling that comes as a result of this combination of emotions, 'he' says he, 'we often create for ourselves, out of a pure desire for sensation, the pianistry of dread.'"

"It is not men alone who sets out to learn how to shudder. The mother who sits on the couch anxiously awaiting her boy's return from school, is doing the same thing. She surrenders herself to feelings of anxiety and pictures her having fallen into the water. In reality, she feels nothing of the kind. Otherwise she would have rushed long ago to the water, instead of sitting quietly on the couch, indulging, pleasantly, in feelings of apprehension."

"But picturing to herself all the dangers into which her son may have fallen, she is unconsciously enjoying herself. Out of the everyday, monotonous home-coming of her youngster, she has created a dramatic event. She will welcome him with a sigh of relief and happiness when he crosses the threshold just as she had really been expecting him to arrive, safe and sound."

PROMINENT SPECIALISTS PRESCRIBE YODINA DISCOVERY

more double guarantee is published so every reader of this paper who suffers from any form of hemorrhoids will positively give the Yodina Treatment a trial.

Relief in 5 Minutes

Whether how bad, nor how long you have had piles, hemorrhoids or rectal ulcers, with certain relief is now assured by the discovery of a New York specialist, Dr. H. Luntz.

Yodina pile treatment has already been extensively used in the famous Lindisfarne, as well as in the other well-known health institutions. The results of Yodina certainly must be unusually good, for so many doctors write in its praise. Dear Lee of Washington, for instance, writes: "Yodina a remarkable treatment for hemorrhoids."

Praises New Medicine After It Relieved Her Health Troubles

Over Ailments, Dizzy Spells, Nervousness And Sleeplessness Overcome By Nu-Erb She Says.

"Every day passes now, but that was not the case when I was suffering from liver ailments," said Mrs. McBride Drug Store, 312 Wall Street, of the wonderful good that I obtained through the use of the great herbal preparation, Dr. McBride's Nu-Erb, which is meeting such success in treating disorders of the stomach, kidneys, liver, and bowels.

Here is the recent enthusiastic story that is told by Mrs. Mary L. Remy, St. Remy, N. Y.

"For several years I have suffered from liver ailments," said Mrs. Remy. "I had a sallow complexion and I'd get such dizzy spells and dark floating spots before my eyes that everything went black before me and I had to hold on to something for fear of falling. At such times I would become extremely nervous and irritable. I couldn't sleep nights, had a very poor appetite and my entire system was so badly run down that I was tired, weak and worn out all day long."

"I tried medicine after medicine and treatment after treatment, but there was nothing seemed to help me. I became discouraged with medicine entirely and it was only because I had been reading of so many people that I knew who were being helped by Nu-Erb that I decided to give it a trial. I have now been using it three or four weeks and want to say that it has done all that was claimed for it. It has overcome the sluggish condition of my liver, from which I suffered for so many years and in doing so it has put an end to the dizzy spells and spots before my eyes. My nerves are steady now. I sleep soundly the whole night through and I have a better appetite than I have known for some time. This splendid medicine has also restored my lost strength and energy and my work is just twice as easy for me now. I will gladly recommend it to anyone."

McBride Drug Store, 312 Wall St., is headquarters in Kingston for Nu-Erb. Go see the Nu-Erb man now, making his headquarters there and let him explain to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.

"The Climax" Begins Tonight

For the third dramatic presentation of the current season at the new Woodstock Play House, located on the grounds of the Country Club, Manager David Reischer announces a three-day engagement of "The Climax" beginning this evening and continuing tomorrow and Saturday evenings.

"The Climax" was written many years ago by Edward Locke and interspersed with many dramatic situations is a musical theme in the form of a song known as "The Song of the South". The theme song is the brain child of a young Italian composer, Pietro, struggling against adversity in a New York tenement house. In the same household are Louis Goldsmith, an irascible Italian music teacher, and his charming daughter, Adeline, possessor of an operatic voice, and who, in the course of the play, sings the theme song several times with remarkable purity and expression. Mr. Locke has also injected much comedy relief in his situations and altogether "The Climax" is such a wonderful piece of dramatic construction that it has become a classic of the American stage and the subject of many revivals.

FIERCEST FIGHTERS AT LAST CONQUERED

Yaquis of Mexico Finally Accept Fate.

Mexico City.—Mexico's fiercest warriors, the Yaquis, have at last agreed to be commanded by non-Yaqui leaders. For 400 years—300 under Spanish rule, 100 under Mexican—the Yaquis maintained their independence, refusing to be conquered. Deaten at the end by the government, with their country in ruins, they now go one step further in becoming Mexicanized by their acceptance of a "foreign" commander.

Four hundred Yaqui soldiers are at Port Perote, a mountain near Orizaba, in the state of Vera Cruz. This is the group which for the first time in history has submitted to a non-Indian leader. The war office's announcement of a change in the organization of this Yaqui force was regarded as signifying the disappearance of Yaquis as separate units. Hereafter they will be part of the army. Colonel Enrique Morfin Figueroa has been assigned to the group under the new arrangement.

Manzo Conqueror of Yaquis.

The actual conqueror of the Yaquis was Gen. Francisco Manzo, one of the leaders of the present rebellion who recently crossed the United States border at Nogales to escape falling into federal hands. The Manzo campaign against the Yaquis, undertaken three years ago, was organized with 13,000 troops and equipment which included nine airplanes.

At that time the Yaquis controlled a region extending 100 miles north of Guaymas, in Sonora, and which included some of the best lands in the republic. The stretch under Yaqui ownership extended along the Yaqui river valley in a district larger than the Imperial valley of California and with water resources three times as great as those of the Imperial valley.

Today the only Yaqui country left in Yaqui power is in the Bacate mountains. But the power is small. All the warriors are gone or killed. Women and children and old men predominate in the last citadel.

As in the present revolution, the rebel Indians in Yaquiland lost their fight partly through the government's use of the most modern arm of war—the airplane. The blue planes that Manzo had on his front flew constantly over Yaqui territory bombing and spreading terror. The federal planes drove the inhabitants of Bacate, the capital, into the mountains and finally destroyed it.

Planes Aided in Conquest.

Ammunition ran low after the war had raged incessantly for many months, the plane raids continued unceasingly, and finally, cut off from the world and beleaguered from the air, the Yaquis surrendered. Their surrender, however, was conditional. They agreed to take service in the Mexican army provided their own chief, General Ignacio Mori, should be permitted to continue as their head.

Their liberty curtailed by the rigid discipline of the army, the Yaquis were not always good soldiers, although their valor in fighting was unquestioned. The group at Perote was for this reason perhaps little better off than prisoners.

The Yaquis still preserve their ancient language and customs. Although they are Christians, in common with other Indian tribes of Mexico, they have mixed the symbols of Catholicism with the signs of the old gods.

While the Mexican government had to all but exterminate them in order to pacify them, it seems likely that the Yaqui fighting tradition which has existed for 400 years will continue in Mexican memory at least for a long time to come.

Every German smokes an average of 300 cigars and 700 cigarettes a year, statistics say.

Concert at New Playhouse

At the Tuesday evening concert at the Woodstock Playhouse, the second of the series launched at the new Woodstock Playhouse, a quartet gave the performance.

Thomas Henrotte, concert master of the Metropolitan Opera House, led the quartet with first violin; Armand Goulet, second violin; Gerald Goulet, viola; and Aaron Bodemann, cello. The quartet played Mendelssohn, which delighted the audience; the musicians were called back for encore bows after each selection.

For the second part of the program, 30 from Chautauque was played with Charles King at the piano and Henrotte, Goulet, and Bodemann forming the quartet. At the close of this part, the audience applauded until three stage bows were given. The quartet was called back for a much better concert than the first one; the audience was of good size; there was a number of Kingston people present.

Henrotte made the announcement that on next Tuesday evening, there would be present Elida Vernon, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, to take part on the program, and that distinguished guests from New York would come to Woodstock for her performance.

Regulating Climate

Just as in winter one opens his window to let in the cold air when the room is too warm, a Washington meteorologist suggests using the ice of the polar regions to regulate the earth's climate. This may be done by having international expeditions sail to the Arctic and Antarctic and blast huge chunks of ice from the glaciers. This would let more icebergs into the oceans and would considerably moderate the heat of summer. Those icebergs which are naturally found in the North Atlantic have a beneficial effect on the climate of Europe, among other things preventing droughts. Similarly, Antarctic icebergs are of benefit to Australia.

Historic American Castle

Romance, war and ghostly legend hang over Bacon's castle, whose huge diamond-shaped chimneys are landmarks for miles around the eastern edge of Surrey county, in Virginia. One of the oldest buildings in the state, built in 1655, it is marvelously preserved. Because of the castle's proximity to Jamestown, and since it was in the track of the rebels led by Nathaniel Bacon, Capt. Lawrence Baker was forced to flee from the castle during Bacon's rebellion of 1675-76. The castle was seized by young Bacon's followers and fortified, and since that time has borne the name, Bacon's castle.

Guard Against Icebergs

The international ice patrol was organized on an international basis as a result of the international conference for the safety of life at sea, in London, 1913. It resulted from a universal demand for a protection of steamships against icebergs in the North Atlantic area after the loss of the Titanic, in April, 1912. The United States was asked to undertake the management of this service, and agreed to send two vessels to patrol the danger area during iceberg season, March 1 to July 1. Each of the contracting parties consented to bear a share of the cost in proportion to its shipping tonnage.

Cause of Cloudburst

The popular idea that a so-called cloudburst consists of a vast quantity of water held in the sky in liquid form which is suddenly released is erroneous. A cloudburst occurs when a large quantity of water vapor condenses suddenly instead of gradually. As soon as water vapor condenses gravity causes it to fall rapidly.

NEW PALTZ

New Palitz, July 11.—Bruce Bennett of the Normal spent his few weeks of vacation before the opening of summer school in the southern part of the state making several commencement addresses. While he was thus employed, Mrs. Bennett and her two daughters, Constance and Florence spent their time at a summer camp on Long Island. They were shortly joined by Anna Lucy and Ethel Freer both recent graduates of the Normal School and residents of New Palitz. Mr. Bennett returned home to teach in summer school but left his happy family and their friends to enjoy themselves.

The first group of Fresh Air Children from Brooklyn arrived at the Arbuckle Farms Wednesday. There are 12 in the company. Mr. and Mrs. Erasmus Gerald entertained Mrs. O. S. Gregg and John Gregg of New Hurley on Sunday. Mrs. Mottie Conline and son, Charles, called Saturday from New York on the steamer "Mormus" for New Orleans. From there they will go to Phoenix, Arizona, stopping on the way at St. Antonio, El Paso and going over into Mexico. From Phoenix where they will visit Mrs. Conline's brothers, they will go on to California.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Gaffney entertained Lillian Baxter, George Caniz and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Daigle of Marlborough Friday evening.

Mrs. John Lucy and Miss Mary Lucy of Grove street spent Sunday with relatives in Marlborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Friend Wilklow were in High Falls on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reynolds and son of Maybrook were in town the Fourth.

Mrs. Frank Elliott is spending a couple of weeks in Yonkers.

Miss Mary Segelkow and Miss Frances Eichner of Patterson, Dutchess county, are attending New Palitz summer school.

Elaine Kniffen returned home on Sunday after spending two weeks in Newburgh.

The regular meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held Wednesday, July 17, at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Abel Quick on Grove street.

Word has been received by friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Mertz, who left their home two weeks ago for a trip across the continent, that they have visited Yellowstone Park, Yosemite Valley and other interesting places, now crossing the Rocky Mountains. Thence they will take a southern course to California, stopping at Los Angeles for a while, coming back through the desert to Florida, then home.

Emory G. Jacobs of the Normal School faculty preached in the Methodist Church on Sunday morning, July 7. Subject, "The Church as a factor in the building of the institutions of Peace."

Mrs. Stuble, Charles Mertz, Jr. and wife, Mrs. Edward Butte, Mr. and Mrs. A. Topp, Miss Miriam Topp and A. Topp, Jr., are stopping at Henry Mertz's.

The annual meeting of the trustees of the Elting Memorial Library was held Monday night, July 8.

Miss Marion K. Fitzpatrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Fitzpatrick of Poughkeepsie, became the bride of John Brutt of Elmberg, Long Island, on Sunday, July 7. The ceremony took place in the Holy Trinity Church, Poughkeepsie, the Rev. P. P. Conroy, pastor, officiating. Mrs. Brutt is a graduate of Poughkeepsie High School and New Palitz Normal School, and has been teaching in Brooklyn. Mr. Brutt is a graduate of the Commercial High School, Brooklyn, and the American Institute of Banking. He is associated with the foreign department of the Bank of New York and Trust Company, 48 Wall street. He is a director of the Clover Building and Loan Association of Bellville, N. J. Many guests attended the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. P. DuBois spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Quick.

Eddie Jones caught a 14 pound carp Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bleecker have been entertaining relatives from Palenville.

Mrs. Lanette Eltinge DuBois has leased her home on Orchard Heights to Mrs. Scribner of Wallkill.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Ross are enjoying an outing in company with Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Ostrander of Clintonville, who have a camp in Delaware county.

Miss Edna Dugan of Gardiner was in town Monday.

Those from New Palitz who are at the Ulster County Girl Scouts' camp, Camp Wendy, are the Misses Helen Bogert, Ellen Harvey, Mary Radley, Mildred Radley and later on Marjorie Tremper, Marie Bell and Mildred Zimmerman will join them.

Jesse LeFevre has been doing some repair work at the county farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Abel Quick spent Sunday afternoon with relatives in Whitefield.

Miss Dora Allen, who has been spending some time in Brooklyn, has returned to her home in town.

Miss Muffy, who was injured a short time before school closed by a fall from a horse, has spent the intervening time in a hospital in Clearfield, Pennsylvania. She expected to return to her home in Howard, Pa., on July 5. Fortunately the injury to her spine is not as serious as was at first feared.

Miss Edith Holt, of the Normal School Art Department, has rented for the summer the little bungalow inhabited during the winter by the Misses Rich, Bennett, Deane and Thompson.

St. Mark's Party.

The stewardesses of St. Mark's A. M. E. Zion Church, Foxhall avenue, will give a lawn party on the grounds of the parsonage, 27 Jansen avenue, this evening. A pleasant time is promised all who attend.

Events Around The Empire State

Albany (AP).—Men employed in the wood manufacturing industries in New York state earn on the average of $25.74 a week, compared with $19.83 earned by women in the same industries, according to the most recent report of the State Labor Department.

Saratoga Lake (AP).—A bayonet, used during the Civil War, and other relics disappeared from the John Brown farm near here after four car loads of tourists visited the home and grave of the famous abolitionist.

Newark (AP).—Workmen excavating for a new dairy here were deluged when their shovels uncovered a gushing spring which flowed at an estimated rate of 20,000 gallons an hour.

Rochester (AP).—An old-fashioned rodeo was started in city streets here when police worked for nearly an hour to capture two steers which escaped from the pens of a tallow company.

Elizabethtown (AP).—A spotted adder, six feet long, was killed near here. It was the largest adder killed in this section in many years. They are said to be harmless.

Albany (AP).—The fur, leather and rubber goods industries of this state pay men employees an average of $20.36 a week, compared with $17.63 a week for women employees, according to the New York State Labor Department.

Troy (AP).—Local policemen have been provided with data which will enable them to supply tourists with complete route directions.

Schenectady (AP).—The phrase, "No flappers wanted" was included in a classified advertisement in a local newspaper, but the advertisement failed to define the term "flapper."

Deposit of Travertine Uncovered in Florida

An industry that flourished 2,000 years ago, and which continues to produce great wealth for Italy, is undergoing development in the United States. Extensive deposits of travertine in Manatee county, Florida, have furnished a new and unexpected source of supply.

It was travertine that the Romans used in the Coliseum and other structures of ancient times which stand today in whole or in part. Wherever destruction has taken place it was the hand of man and not the elements that destroyed. In later centuries Italy's travertine quarries continued to supply stone for some of the great monuments of Rome, notably St. Peter's and other large churches. The medieval builders knew the beauty and wearing qualities of travertine no less than did the ancients. But travertine was a material used only in Italy and to a limited degree in the rest of Europe until the era of our great buildings began.—New York Times.

Marvelous Number of Nerve Cells in Brain

The piece of machinery which operates more like the brain than any other is the automatic telephone. The televox is more spectacular, but its work is limited. In the operation of the automatic telephone the selection is made in the same way—by a series of number signals rung, in succession, by a small contact point behind the telephone dial as it turns. But instead of the hundred separate signal combinations that the televox can understand, the telephone system has place for nearly ten billions.

Yet even this vast sum the human brain exceeds. The number of living nerve cells in the surface gray matter of the brain is more than 9,000,000,000. If it be assumed that these can be connected to one another in the same fashion as telephone subscribers are—a process that experts agree is probably something like what happens during thinking—the number of possible interconnections would be about 90,000,000,000,000,000,000.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

The doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stomach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad; you are likely to get sick unless you relish food and digest it properly.

Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles, even those of years' standing.

Mrs. Ellen White of 21 Sanger St., New Hartford, N. Y., writes us: "For years I suffered from indigestion. I got no relief from anything until I took Tanlac. After my fourth bottle, I feel like a new person and have a fine appetite."

If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation, or torpid liver; if you have no appetite, can't sleep and are nervous and all run down, you need Tanlac. It is good, pure, medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

President To Dedicate New Navigable Ohio

The Ohio river canal system, 1,000 miles long, will be dedicated by President Hoover (lower left) October 15. Dam No. 30 (above) just below Pittsburgh will control the flow of water. Below is shown one of the river boats which may take the chief executive to Memphis.

ST. JAMES M. E. PICNIC
SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

The church school of St. James M. E. Church will have a picnic on the property of L. B. Baston on the road between Hurley and Stone Ridge, Saturday afternoon, July 13. Cars will leave St. James Church at 1 o'clock for the picnic grounds, so all who have no cars are requested to be at the church, where they will find transportation.

Each family is to bring its own basket lunch. Ice cream will be furnished. Soda will be on sale by a committee under Mr. Dumm and candy by Mrs. Quimby and her workers.

A series of athletic games has been planned, including a horse-shoe pitching contest in which Frank DuFon, an expert at the game, will take on all comers. There also will be swimming.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 11 (AP)—Parity for selling for both accounts again developed a wide range of issues in today's stock market, but operations for the afternoon, entering in the declines, carried the general list of securities higher.

Failure of the call loan rate to go below 1 per cent, and uncertainty as to what may be expected from the weekly brokerage loan statement, due after the close of the market, caused some uncertainty and reduced participating and lightening of commitments.

The undertone of the money market, however, was easy, and Wall Street still believed that lower money rates could be expected in the near future. Further paying off of New York banks' indebtedness to the Federal Reserve tended to nullify for the present the influence of an inflow of funds from the interior.

Announcement that the treasury will retire $75,000,000 in 3 1/2 per cent notes was regarded as promising some improvement, unless the federal reserve acts to offset the influence on the money market.

At last week's brokerage loan total was only $24,600,000 from the record total of March 26, Wall Street was prepared to see a new high record. But the highly irregular market of the past week made predictions difficult as to what change may be expected in the total.

The day's business news was meagre, and not of a nature to influence the market. A few earnings reports for the first half trickled in, however, in general justifying the optimistic estimates. Underwood-Elliott-Fisher earned $4.57 a share in the first half, against $2.92 in the same period of last year.

Brooklyn Union Gas and Consolidated Gas were again strong in response to merger rumors, rising 1 1/2 and 3 points respectively to new high prices. American Power and Light also reached a new peak, and such issues as American Water Works, Columbia Gas and Detroit Edison mounted 4 points or so.

Midland steel products preferred jumped more than 12 points in response to recapitalization reports.

Case Threshing sold up 8 points, and Auburn Auto mounted 9, only to react later. Eastman Kodak was again a strong feature, soaring 7 points to a new record. American Can and American Rolling Mills also achieved new peaks.

Hercules Nose Out Artnells in The Last Inning

The Industrial League team was defeated by the West Shore team in the last inning of the game played at the Kingston Fair grounds last night. The score was 1-0 in favor of the West Shore team.

Norm Niles, the pitcher for the Industrial League, was the star of the game. He pitched a complete game, allowing only one run in the last inning.

Paul Peters of the Artnells and Jim Ten Eyck of the Industrial League were the only players to reach base in the last inning.

After the powdermen went out in the last inning, the game was over. The West Shore team won by a score of 1-0.

Handley scored the first run of the game in the third for the powdermen. He singled to left field, took second on an infield out and tallied on Ken Best's single.

The Artnells rallied in the fourth inning to tie the score and had a good chance of winning the game with three men on the bases waiting for someone to bring them home, but nobody would oblige. Buchanan started the inning with a single, stole second and scored on Lewis's single. Brophy sent Lewis to third with a double and Spevack was hit by a pitch ball to load the bases. Thorne was then thrown out at first for the last out.

SIDELINERS.
One error marred the game. It was a wild throw by Hotelling, trying to catch Thorne napping at first base.

Dulin and Hertica pulled a Gaston-Alphonse act on a fly ball in the fourth, the ball finally dropping for a single.

Roosea, Artnells' second baseman, is still nursing a sprained ankle.

Peterson cut off at least two runs in the fourth inning when he made a nice pickup of Thorne's grounder back of third base.

STRONG BLUE SOX LINEUP TO TACKLE PAN-AMS.

Manager Tommy Dugan of the Blue Sox states that he has a strong lineup to send against the Pan-AMS at the Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon, when the teams clash in the first of a series, that promises to be a fast and interesting set of games. Last year the teams played off a series, the Pan-AMS getting the better of the Sox, who hope to overthrow the old-time pitcher. Both teams will use their pitching ace in Sunday's game, which is to start at 3 o'clock.

Tagging Major League Bases

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Reports that the Cubs were cracking seem to have been exaggerated. Fresh from two larrupings by the Braves in three games, the Chicago contenders stepped into the Polo Grounds yesterday and cracked curves and fast ones up against the walls with such abandon that the Giant outer-patrol ran itself dizzy in no time at all. The Bruins won the opener of the five-game series by the modest score of 6 to 2, but it seemed like an Irish mile.

Turned back in the first assault, the Giants now face the necessity of winning all four of the remaining games if they are to displace the Cubs in second position in this series. A double-header is on the card beneath Coogan's Bluff today, with single games scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday. Meanwhile the Pirates will be gambling in Baker Bowl with the Phillies, whom they defeated yesterday by 15 to 9 in a home-run orgy.

The Pirates hit five home runs in Philadelphia and the Phillies four. This total was within one of the record of ten for two clubs in a game set at the same Baker Bowl in 1922 when the Phils hit six and the Cardinals four. Grantham led with two, and Traynor, Lloyd Waner and Fustell of the Pirates and Klein, O'Doul, Hurst and Southern of the Phils got one apiece.

William Watson Clark outpitched Jess Haines and Fred Frankhouse by just enough to enable Brooklyn to win the opener of its series against the Cardinals by 9 to 6.

The Reds punched the Braves by 10 to 2 at Boston in the opening of Jack Hendrick's personal campaign to escape from the cellar.

The day's maneuvers in the American League were disappointing to all three contenders. Alphonse Thomas defeated the Yankees for the second time in his major league career, plunging the Huggins camp into gloom. The score was 6 to 3.

The Athletics started with a rush, winning the opener at St. Louis by 4 to 1 when Howard Ehmke turned in a two-hit game against Sammy Gray, but the Browns got even in the nightcap. George Walberg and Eddie Rommel failed to hold Howley's boys.

Cleveland rallied sharply to defeat Washington by 9 to 7, climbing one notch above the .500 mark. Mary McManus hit another home run with the bases filled and the Tigers defeated the Red Sox by just that margin, 10 to 6.

"Chick" Meenan, football coach of New York university, was a rookie with the Boston Braves when the late George Stallings managed the team, but then decided to confine his efforts to the gridiron.

Babe Ruth announces that he will retire in 1931 and begin letting his waistline grow. His most recent photographs indicate that the waistline is going to have a hard time waiting for two whole years.

Nack Garner, veteran jockey, has won about every race of consequence in the North American turf world, with the exception of the Kentucky derby, most desirable racing prize of all.

Umpire Joe Becker Has Ready Reply for Query

Joe Becker did not start the season with the Coast league this year, but has just caught on with the International. During his period of "inactivity," however, since he naturally is regarded as an authority, he kept "in condition," giving decisions when called upon by his friends in Joplin.

Recently he was questioned concerning giving credit for runs batted in.

"Suppose," he was asked, "the bases are full and the batter is struck on the head by a pitched ball, forcing in a run. Should he be given credit for a run batted in?"

"Joe thought for quite a while," he said finally, "that would come under the heading of runs batted in."

Carnegie Tech Boasts Advisory Grid Coach

Carnegie Tech is one of the few major college football teams of the country that possess an advisory coach besides an active one. Judge Walter K. Steffen, the advisory coach at the Kibben camp, is one of the most popular and successful coaches of the gridiron world.

The judge, a former star with the University of Chicago in 1908, making a berth on Walter Camp's All-American team that year, sits on a Chicago bench throughout the week, but always looks for the week of Tech's game on Friday evenings. He spends all of his thirty-day vacation in the month of September seeing his charges get off to a good start.

Boxing Program At Kingston Fair Grounds Tonight

Everything is ready for the 34-round boxing card at the Kingston Fair Grounds tonight, when Tony Leto, local resident, and Jose Martinez, Spanish featherweight champion, will clash in one star 10-frame bout, and Charlie Von Reeden of Atlanta, Ga., and Benny Brostoff, New York.

The show is being promoted by the Singer Exhibition, Inc., of which Bill Singer of this city is president. Jess McMahon, New York promoter and former matchmaker at Madison Square Garden, is back of the enterprise. Tonight's show is promised to be one equal to any New York attraction.

The full program follows:
Ten Rounds.
Tony Leto, Kingston, vs. Jose Martinez, Spanish featherweight champion.
Charlie Von Reeden of Atlanta, Ga., vs. Benny Brostoff, New York.

Eight Rounds.
Paulie Porter, New York, vs. Peter Burns of Long Island City.

Four Rounds.
Al Moy, Chinese middleweight in his first American appearance, vs. Johnny Shultz, New York.
Joe Werner, Kingston, vs. Billy Sanjousky.

Local Men Appointed.
Two Kingstonians have been appointed by the State Boxing Commission to act as officials in connection with the open air boxing bouts at the Kingston Fair Grounds tonight, under the auspices of the Singer Exhibition, Inc. Samuel J. Ringer has been named announcer and Dr. Louis Hugel of 365 Broadway, examining physician.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press).
New York—Kid Chocolate, Cuba, outpointed Ignacio Fernandez, Philippines, (10); Armando Santiago, Cuba, knocked out Tony Pelligrino, New York, (11); Black Bill, Cuba, outpointed Phil Tobias, New York, (10).

Cleveland—Billy Wallace, Cleveland, outpointed Tommy Grogan, Omaha, Neb., (10).

Benton Harbor, Mich.—Pee Wee Jarrell, Mishawaka, outpointed Tony Lombardo, Toledo, (10).

Milwaukee—Rene Devos, Belgium, stopped Joe Gordon, Minneapolis, (5).

Dayton, Ky.—Joe Chaney, Baltimore, and Eddie Kid Agner, Philadelphia, (declared no contest in seventh round).

Indianapolis—Johnny Mason, Scranton, Pa., outpointed Jack Chief Elkhart, Chicago, (10); Jimmy Sansone, Cincinnati, outpointed Lon Lovelace, Terre Haute, (8).

KID CHOCOLATE WINS OVER FILIPINO FIGHTER.
New York, July 11 (AP)—Kid Chocolate of Cuba has taken one more long step toward wherever he is going. The ebony kid has abandoned his march toward bantamweight honors and cast his lot with the featherweights, making an impressive big time debut last night with a victory over Ignacio Fernandez.

The Cuban, unbeaten in his 150 battles in the ring, was in trouble on very rare occasions in conquering Fernandez, who bounced into the spotlight a short time ago by knocking out Al Singer. Chocolate got an early start by hammering the Filipino around the ring and drawing blood from his nose in the fourth round and coasted on to victory. His super boxing ability made Fernandez miss time and again, although he gamely tried to get over a deciding wallop right to the end.

ACTIVITIES AT WURTS STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

Mid-week service tonight at 7:45 o'clock. The church will take action on a program of activities for the fall and winter campaign. The topic of the pastor's address will be, "Why Bob Ingersoll was, and why many today are, unbelievers." On Saturday afternoon and evening the Philathea and Baraca classes will hold their monthly business and social meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Powell, at McClellan. Those who cannot go in the afternoon will go up in time for supper. This will be a basket picnic supper, each taking his own. Those members who care to go and Newkirk, have no means of conveyance will please report to the pastor at the earliest possible moment. On Sunday morning next the pastor will preach on the topic "Is a 20th Century Boy worth the Cost of His Raising?"

This amazing du Pont floor finish wears like iron

ONLY du Pont scientists could so combine such beauty and durability. We recommend famous Supremis Floor Varnish without hesitation—especially where a floor has to stand hard usage. This finish stands up under the feet of the most energetic children—and that's a real test. The reasons are simple. Supremis Floor Varnish is the result of exact chemical research. It is unaffected by heat or cold—built exactly to meet the practical requirements. Now is the time to get your floor into perfect condition, in key with the rest of the house. Supremis Floor Varnish gives hard or soft wood a wonderfully beautiful sheen and texture. You will find Supremis surprisingly economical. If you want to do the job quickly, use du Pont 4-Hour Varnish—it will enable you to save time.

DO--IF IT IS PINE TREE

DO LOOK AT THE BACK of your hostess' silver. She wants you to. It's her cue for relating the quaintest story.

Of how that pine tree image that you see on the reverse side of her silver was once the mark of sterling on the Pine Tree Shilling—America's first silver coin. And of how it means Sterling, unmistakably, on her silver today.

Wouldn't you, too, like to possess this beautiful silver—with-a-story?

Cordially yours,
